

CPYRGHT

CPYRGHT

Adm. Raborn to Head CIA

Johnson City, Tex., April 11 (Special) President Johnson today announced the appointment of retired Vice Adm. William F. (Red) Raborn Jr., 59, to succeed John McCone as director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

McCone has wanted to retire for at least the past several months.

Johnson also announced the appointment of Richard Helms, who is at present deputy director for plans of the CIA, as deputy director of the agency.